

Situated on the Right Bank of the Seine, the Marais is one of Bae's favourite areas in Paris.

Yeojin Bae

Parisian elegance at Pavillon de la Reine

I ♥ PARIS

For Yeojin Bae, business and pleasure meet in the City of Lights. The Melbourne-based fashion designer and her French husband, Jean François, travel to Paris at least twice a year for work and to catch up with family. "It's an amazing city to immerse yourself in and be inspired by," says Bae. "Paris oozes chic from every street corner."

PAVILLON DE LA REINE

"This is the hotel I recommend to all my friends who visit Paris. It's on Place des Vosges, a really beautiful square in Paris that's within walking distance to all the bars in Bastille. The decor is very Parisian, the service amazing and there's a wonderful in-house Carita spa."

Pavillon de la Reine, 28 Place des Vosges, 75003, Paris; +33 1 40 29 19 19.

MARCHÉ PAUL BERT

"This market has the most amazing antique furniture and lighting. It's one of those places where you make a wish list of all the items you would like to ship back home."

Marché Paul Bert at the Saint Ouen Flea Market, 18 Rue Paul Bert (open Saturdays, Sundays and Mondays); +33 1 40 11 54 14/paulbert-serpente.com

BOUTIQUE CAUSSE

"I discovered this beautiful glove shop while staying near the Place Vendôme last year. I eyed off the boutique like a candy store until finally, on my last day in Paris, I found my perfect gloves: a black, cut-away pair, with what I call "hand cleavage" and a simple silver chain falling along the edge."

Boutique Causse, 12 Rue de Castiglione, 75001, Paris; +33 1 49 26 91 43/causse-gantier.fr/en/

LE TEMPS AU TEMPS

"This tiny bistro serves home-style French cuisine with a modern twist. It's one of those cosy little places where, during your amazing three-course meal, you're knocking elbows with the diners next to you and listening to each other's conversations."

Le Temps au Temps, 13 Rue Paul Bert, 75011, Paris; +33 1 43 75 63 40.

THANK GOD I'M A V.I.P.

"This is a must-visit vintage clothing store—well-priced and well edited. My husband bought me a beautiful cream Burberry trench coat from here for my birthday. They also stock a great range of vintage shoes and accessories."

Thank God I'm a V.I.P., 12 Rue de Lancry, 75010, Paris; +33 1 42 03 02 09/thankgod.com

L'AS DU FALLAFEL

"With a queue that runs down the street past all the other empty falafel shops, this place is definitely worth the wait. I pile my falafels with smoky eggplant and lots of harissa."

L'As du Falafel, 34 Rue des Rosiers, Marais, 75004, Paris; +33 1 48 87 63 60.

MUST VISIT
"La Belle Hortense in the Marais is part cosy wine bar, part cafe, part book store."
31 Rue Vieille du Temple, 75003, Paris; +33 1 42 99 73 60

A quirky window display at Thank God I'm a V.I.P.

Belle Hortense, which sells both French and English literature, is a hit with the locals.

The renowned L'As du Falafel eatery.

The entrance to Marché Paul Bert.

to the